PLEASE NOTE:

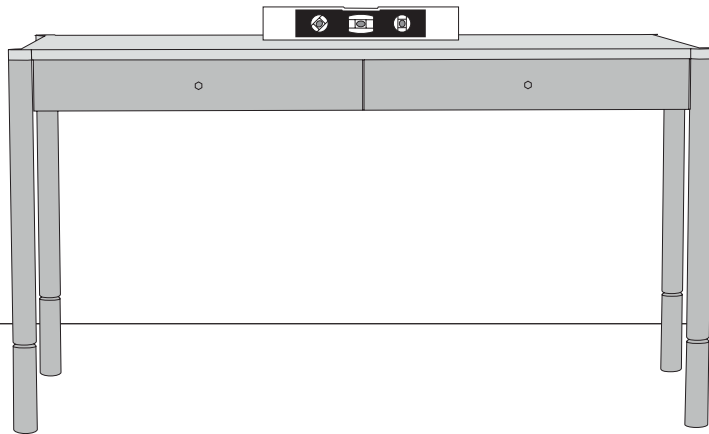

Stone top is especially subject to breaking if carried in a flat orientation. When moving, always make sure to tip vertically and handle with extraordinary care. When setting top down, lay flat on a padded surface – do not lean against another object. Stone top has locator blocks on underside that must be properly aligned with base, as shown.

5. Unpack stone top and raise to approximate position over cabinet base. Gently lower one end, aligning stone “ears” of top with cabinet legs. Then lower opposite end, being careful not to drop abruptly and to keep fingers clear.

6. Once desk is fully assembled assess if it's level, and adjust leveling glides as needed.
